INTERNATIONAL CAPACITY BUILDING FUND Society for Applied Microbiology

Description:

The Society for Applied Microbiology invites applications to its international capacity building fund. This provides resources to enhance education and training of applied microbiology in developing countries. Situations that may be eligible for funding include:

- visits to overseas laboratories and other facilities in developing countries to undertake educational activities;
- visits to laboratories to receive training in applied microbiology;
- visits to sites where it has been clearly identified that an important culture collection may be lost due to lack of resources, and provision of training and advice to prevent such a loss.

Applicants must have been a full ordinary member of the society for at least three years or have their application sponsored by such a member. Applicants may only apply once in a 24 month period. Successful applicants will be required to produce a report for possible future publication in Microbiologist magazine. Funding will not normally exceed £5,000.

YOUNG SCHOLAR AWARD European Association for Chinese Studies

Description:

The European Association for Chinese Studies invites applications for its young scholar award. The purpose of this award is to encourage research on Chinese studies among young scholars, especially those studying and working at European institutions. Candidates should be 35 years of age or below and their rank of academic employment should be below that of associate professor or senior lecturer or the equivalent ranks in other systems. The members of the jury welcome papers of high scholarly promise engaging primary sources, secondary scholarship, and innovative research methodologies relevant to the field.

Papers should be written in English; only single-authored papers will be accepted. Papers should preferably be unpublished; however, candidates may submit papers that are under review for publication in a scholarly journal at the time of the 2012 Paris conference. The YSA jury hopes to nominate three finalists. Nominees will be invited to Paris to attend the 2012 EACS conference where their papers will be presented during a special session. EACS will sponsor travel costs, per diem expenses as well as the conference registration fee of all shortlisted candidates. The winner of the YSA will be announced during the conference and honoured with the award of a certificate.

Styrelsen för internationellt utvecklingssamarbete - Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency

Description:

The Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency invites applications for its peace and security in Africa programme. The purpose of the programme is to increase the capacity of regional organisations in Sub-Saharan Africa to prevent, manage and resolve armed conflicts on the continent. Specifically, the programme aims to:

- develop increase knowledge on issues relating to peace and security in Sub-Saharan Africa;
- develop increased knowledge of practical methods and tools for improving and strengthening the work for peace and security in the region;
- build capacity and competences to analyse the role of the own organisation in the regional and national work for peace and security;

- develop increased knowledge about African regional cooperation in the area of peace and security, with particular focus on the roles of the African Union and the regional economic communities;
- strengthening regional networks between organisations working on peace and security at regional, national and local levels;
- increase knowledge about and establish contacts with relevant Swedish stakeholders and enterprise.

The focus of the programme is theoretical and practical knowledge about peace and security in Sub-Saharan Africa. Special emphasis is placed on the particular challenges posed in various phases of the conflict cycle. The programme consists of five compulsory phases:

- two months introductory period;
- three weeks course in Uppsala, Sweden;
- four months interim period to develop the change projects;
- 12 days course in Durban, South Africa;
- five months period to continue work on and report on change projects.

African inter-governmental or non-governmental regional organisations focusing on issues relating to peace and security in Sub-Saharan Africa, and those whose work in this field has a relevance and impact, are invited to apply to the programme. 25 participants will be admitted.

SIDA will cover participation fees, including training costs, as well as the accommodation costs including board and lodging. SIDA will also cover international travel costs to and from Sweden and to and from South Africa.
