OCTOBER 2013

HARRY S TRUMAN LIBRARY INSTITUTE RESEARCH GRANTS
National Archives and Records Administration

Description:

The Harry S Truman Library invites applications for its research grants. Grants of up to $2,500 are intended to enable graduate students, postdoctoral scholars and other researchers to come to the Harry S Truman Library for one to three weeks to use its collections. Awards are to offset expenses incurred for this purpose only. Graduate students and postdoctoral scholars are particularly encouraged to apply, but applications from others engaged in advanced research will also be considered. Preference will be given to projects that have application to enduring public policy and foreign policy issues and that have a high probability of being published or publicly disseminated in some other way. The potential contribution of a project to an applicant's development as a scholar will also be considered.

Closing date: 01 Oct 13

TWAS VISITING SCIENTIST PROGRAMME TWAS

Description:

The Academy of Sciences for the Developing World invites applications for the TWAS visiting scientist programme. Funding supports visits by internationally renowned scientists to institutions located in developing countries, particularly in least developed countries. The programme provides institutions and research groups in developing countries, especially those with limited outside contacts, with the opportunity to establish long-term links with world leaders in science. Host institutions can invite internationally renowned experts in areas of science other than mathematics and physics for a minimum stay of two weeks to collaborate in research and training. Applications from women are particularly welcome. Only persons who have attained international recognition in the field of science will be considered. An honorarium of US$500 and economy class travel are provided.

CO-SPONSORED EVENTS AWARDS

American Society for Theatre Research

Description:

The American Society for Theatre Research invites applications for support for co-sponsored events. ASTR co-sponsored events exist to fulfil ASTR's purpose through collaboration with other organisations and institutions, foster closer relationships with cognate organisations or projects and increase the visibility of the work of both ASTR and the award recipient within a wider professional context.

Applications may come from individuals, organisations, institutions or consortia worldwide. ASTR co-sponsored events receive the endorsement of ASTR, however, ASTR is not able to offer organisational or administrative assistance to awardees. Events of regional, national or international significance in the format of conferences, colloquia, symposia, summits and similar will be considered provided that they align with ASTR's purpose to foster scholarship on theatre and performance, either historical or contemporary, with respect to the US or abroad.

Financial support is capped at US$1,500.

B BEAM TIME - DIRECT AND PROGRAMME ACCESS Diamond Light Source

Description:

The Diamond Light Source solicits proposals for beam time - direct and programme access. This provides beam time for either single experiments or projects of up to two years. Access will be free at the point of use for all non-proprietary research. Proposals are welcome from scientists and engineers from academia, research councils and charitable institutions and from commercial organisations. Travel and subsistence costs during beam time for up to three users will be provided for UK academics. EU users may also receive travel and subsistence funding when undertaking life sciences experiments on MX beamline or I22 beamline; projects with a European principal investigator in physical or life sciences will be considered for funding on a case by case basis. International applicants may apply with their own funding.

GLOBAL SOUTH SCHOLARS IN RESIDENCE
Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies

Description:

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies invites applications to its global south scholars in residence programme. This programme enables outstanding young professors from universities in developing and emerging countries to spend one semester at the institute to pursue advanced research in areas bridging the fields of international and development studies. The programme supports research in the areas of international affairs; development studies; development economics; sociology and anthropology of development; international economics; international relations; international law; international history and politics. Special consideration will be given to applicants with an interest in international governance or research on international organisations in Geneva. Scholars will have the opportunity to:

- update and strengthen the curriculum of their course;
- further a personal research project;
- participate in teaching courses;
- interact with the international community of the institute.

Applicants should demonstrate how their stay will contribute to their academic career and home institution. Applicants must hold a PhD and have a full-time tenure-track or tenured position in an academic institution in Africa, Asia or Latin America. Where the quality of applicants is equal, selection may be guided by an interest in promoting gender and regional diversity. Scholars will be provided with a work space and access to the institute's library and IT facilities. Scholars will receive a monthly stipend and the institute will cover the costs of travel, visas and accommodation.

JOHAN F PERKINS JR MEMORIAL AWARD FOR INTERNATIONAL PHYSIOLOGISTS American Physiological Society

Description:

The American Physiological Society invites applications for the John F Perkins Jr memorial award for international physiologists. The award promotes cultural exchange and scientific collaborations by providing supplementary aid to families of foreign scientists working for a minimum of three months in the US. In this way, young scientists are able to bring their families and thus make full use of the cultural exchange as well as the scientific benefits associated with an international collaboration. The award will support family visits to the US for postdoctoral fellows and junior faculty from overseas.

The programme presupposes that the visiting scientist and their host already have made arrangements for scientific collaboration and have sufficient funds to cover the needs of the visiting scientist. The application must be made jointly by the host and the visiting scientist. The host must be an APS member.

The recipient receives funds generally not exceeding US$5,000.

Closing date: 15 Oct 13

Deadline information: Deadlines on: 15 October 2013, 15 April 2014, and repeated annually.

European Research Consortium for Informatics and Mathematics

Description:

The European Research Consortium for Informatics and Mathematics invites applications for the Alain Bensoussan fellowships. These enable young scientists to spend time at leading European centres outside their own country in order to conduct research in informatics or mathematics. Visits may last for 12 months in one ERCIM institute. A range of topics within the following disciplines are available:

- computer applications;
- computer systems organisation;
- computing methodologies;
- computing milieux;
- data;
- hardware;
- information systems;
- mathematics;
- mathematics of computing;
- software;
- theory of computation;
- other topics.

Researchers from academic institutions and scientists working in industry are encouraged to apply. Each applicant should have obtained a PhD degree during the eight years before the application deadline or be in the last year of the thesis work, having completed the PhD before starting the grant, and must be fluent in English. Travel costs and a monthly allowance or salary are provided.

SIR HENRY DALE FELLOWSHIPS

Wellcome Trust

Description:

The Wellcome Trust, in collaboration with the Royal Society, invites applications for the Sir Henry Dale fellowships. These enable postdoctoral scientists who wish to build their own UK-based independent research career to address an important biomedical question. Research can be based in the laboratory, clinic or field, and may involve experimental or theoretical approaches.

Applicants are expected to have relevant scientific or mathematical qualifications and be no more than seven years from the date of their PhD viva. Applicants must be:

- a UK or EEA national;

- a non-EEA national who either has a relevant degree from a UK university, or has worked in the UK for at least a continuous three-year period;
- an exceptional biomedical scientist who does not fall within the categories above and whose recruitment to the host organisation would be advantageous to both the applicant and the organisation.

Applicants must also have an eligible sponsoring host organisation in the UK that can guarantee support and adequate space and resources for the duration of the award. Fellowships are tenable for five years in the first instance, with the potential to apply for competitive renewal for an additional three years. Funding covers a basic salary plus an enhancement of £7,500 each year, research expenses, travel and subsistence, and overseas allowances. In addition, the funders will provide an inflation and flexible funding allowance, as well as a contribution towards indirect and estate costs of £11,000 per year.

Closing date: 01 Nov 13

Deadline information: Preliminary applications due by 5pm, 1 November 2013; invited full applications 5pm, 17 January 2014. This call is repeated 2 times a year.

G RANTS-IN-AID FOR RESEARCH AT THE ROCKEFELLER ARCHIVE CENTER Rockefeller Archive Center

Description:

The Rockefeller Archive Center invites applications for its grants-in-aid for research. RAC's competitive grant-in-aid program provides awards for reimbursement of up to $5,000 for certain receipted expenses related to research conducted at RAC. The research grants are designed to foster, promote, and support research by serious scholars in the collections located at the Rockefeller Archive Center, which include the records of the Rockefeller family, the Rockefeller University, the Rockefeller Foundation, and other philanthropies and associated individuals.

Awards are made to individuals. Institutions are not eligible to apply. The grant does not support research at other institutions, and it does not provide general tuition support. Application to the grant-in-aid program is open to US citizens and citizens of foreign countries, although certain US government requirements will apply to non-US citizens.

Grant recipients must commence their research at the center within one year of being notified of the award.

CONFERENCE AND WORKSHOP GRANTS

Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research

Description:

The Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research invites applications under its conferences and workshops grant program. Funding of up to US$20,000 per award is available to fund the following events to foster the creation of an international community of research scholars and advance significant and innovative anthropological research:

- conferences, defined as public events that are comprised primarily of oral and poster presentations to a larger audience of anthropologists. Priority is given to major conferences sponsored by large international anthropological organisations that serve as their annual or periodic meetings. The majority of the funds granted to such conferences are expected to be used towards expenses for international scholars who are making presentations at the conference and would not otherwise be able to attend;
- workshops, are defined as working meetings which focus on developing and debating topical issues in theoretical anthropology. Workshops involve a small group of scholars who meet for a sufficient period of time to deal intensively with the topic. Priority is given to those workshops that devote the majority of time to discussion and debate rather than to the presentation of papers. It is expected that workshops will result in a publication.

Applications must be made by a professional anthropologist who is the primary organiser of the proposed conference or workshop.

GRANTS TO INSTITUTIONS IN THE SOUTH FOR JOINT RESEARCH PROJECTS Third World Network of Scientific Organizations

Description:

The Third World Network of Scientific Organizations invites applications from institutions in the South for its grants for joint research projects. This scheme aims to encourage and foster cooperation between research centres in the South. Grants support projects in both basic and applied fields, including:

- biotechnology;
- new materials;
- microelectronics, information technology;
- space technology;

- new and renewable energies;
- biodiversity, soil erosion and desertification;
- floods and earthquakes;
- atmospheric pollution;
- toxic and chemical waste;
- fresh water resources, safe drinking water;
- nanotechnology;
- medicinal plants and natural product chemistry.

Grants may be used to purchase equipment and consumables, specialised literature and research supplies, to cover travel costs for exchange visits and for the organisation of small training and research workshops. Proposals may be submitted by groups of two to three research institutions from science and technology-lagging developing countries. At least one institution per proposal must be located in a least developed country. Grants are worth up to US$30,000 over two years.

COMMONWEALTH SCHOLARSHIPS FOR DEVELOPING COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CITIZENS Commonwealth Scholarship Commission in the UK

Description:

The Commonwealth Scholarship Commission in the UK invites applications for its scholarships for developing Commonwealth country citizens. These enable students from developing Commonwealth countries to pursue master's, PhD and split-site study in the UK. Scholarships support study in all subject areas, although priority will be given to applications that demonstrate strong relevance to development. Master's courses will be funded for up to one year, PhD study for up to three years and split-site study for up to one year as part of a PhD being undertaken in the scholar's home country. All applicants must be permanently resident in a developing Commonwealth country. Applications must be made through the applicant's home country nominating agency or university. Applicants may not apply directly to the commission. Scholarships provide return airfare to the UK, tuition and examination fees, a maintenance allowance of £917 per month (or £1,134 per month for scholars in the London area), a grant towards the preparation of a thesis or dissertation, an arrival allowance, and a grant for approved travel within the UK or overseas.
